DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the operation unit must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Item number 24 on page 7 line 20, should be replaced with the number 14.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kojima et al. (US 2003/0153828) in view of Boyd (US 4,977,585).

Re claims 1 and 3, Kojima et al. discloses an X-ray CT apparatus 40 and a nuclear medicine apparatus 1 of the recited type (Fig. 1) but fails to specify a partition and a partition movement unit. Boyd discloses a X-ray CT scanner comprising moveable shield curtains 21, 25 provided with guides and drive means driven by motors (Col. 3, 21-26). It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system taught by Kojima et al. to include the combination taught by Boyd in order to block projected radiation scattered by the patient.

Re claim 2, Kojima et al. discloses the claimed invention comprising a bed 16, 48, but fails to specify a bed movement unit. It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Kojima et al. to include a bed movement unit, since it has been held that broadly providing a mechanical or automatic means to replace manual activity which has accomplished the same result involves only routine skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13-26 are allowed.

Claims 4-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior art teaches means for setting a position of the X-ray CT image on the scanogram but fails to disclose the limitation recited by dependent claim 4 and independent claims 13, 22, 24, 25, and 26 wherein the limitation claims means for setting a position of the nuclear medicine image on the scanogram.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Townsend et al. (US 2004/0030246) discloses a combined PET and X-ray CT tomography.
